Letter from CHAIRMAN

“Success as a diplomat is only truly achieved if, at the end of the conference, you feel like a new person someone who has learned enough to be a future leader of our world.”

It is an honour to extend an invitation to the aspiring young delegates across schools to be the members of VSPK's MUN. Our aim is to sensitize the learners to the contentious issues which the world is grappling with and to come up with solutions to resolve them.

Our youth has the ideals as well as the attitude to change the world. We need to give direction to their potential and channelize their energy towards positive pursuits to inspire hope of creating a better world for them to thrive in. We are simulating a number of committees with interesting agendas to bring forth animated discussions with arguments and counter-arguments flying across committee rooms.

VSPK International School, during its 23 years journey in pursuit of educational excellence, has strived to inculcate values that help learners grow into responsible citizens through holistic education. To my teachers and students who made this MUN possible my congratulations and best wishes.

"A great public speaker doesn't just utter words; they weave compelling narratives... shaping not just speeches but destinies, one profound idea at a time"

In pursuit of our mission of creating learning experiences that ensure holistic development of our students, VSPK INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL is organizing its 3rd MUN conference with the aim of developing global citizenship attributes among learners hoping to thrive in an inclusive society.

VSPK MUN is a 2-day academic conference for young minds from around the country that aims at educating and sensitizing them towards a more inclusive philosophy.

The world today that is plagued by myriad issues and challenges demands immediate action to ensure that we heal the world of its maladies and restore its dignity through the development of peace and harmony. The daunting task of changing the world requires every individual contribution in the collective endeavours to bring desirable reform in the global society. VSPK MUN is one such endeavour which introduces young people to the fascinating realities and complexities of international relations through simulation of international organizations, where the student leaders get a chance to play a substantive role.

Through this MUN conference, we endeavour to shape the perceptions of tomorrow's leaders by engaging them in truly diplomatic debates in an intense, pressure-packed environment that would be testing the composure, as well as intellect of the delegates as they strive to reach real-life solutions for the global issues thereby strengthening the environment for development of international peace and cooperation.

God bless and all the best.

Letter from DIRECTOR

"It's amazing how much a rewarding intellectual experience MUN can be if you pay close attention to the research and debate".

Model United Nations provides a great platform to create acceptance for other's perspective and thus facilitate development of 21st century skills. We, at VSPK, empower our young learners to build a positive approach, to analyze and think critically and logically.

United Nations for over eight decades has been a "constant and vigilant guard" of progress, peace and security. To move to a future with more justice, more peace, and more prosperity, talented, thoughtful people must commit to engage in the great struggle to craft a better world and brighter future. As the delegates model the work done by the United Nations, they will take up that struggle, acting as the vigilant guards.

I extend my heartiest welcome to all the young delegates who will move forward in their respective journey of debate to diplomacy at VSPK's MUN.

Letter from PRINCIPAL

“MUN is not just a conference, it is a community. We should see ourselves as one sharing our common experience along this journey”.

With newer challenges and toughest debates, VSPK INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL is all geared up to unleash its 3rd MUN. Continuing the legacy of its successful start in the previous year, the theme of this year's MUN is “Young Minds, Global Mandates”.

It is a student led and managed initiative and is being organized by students of VSPK International School. MUN involves and teaches participants with opportunity for research along with enhancing their public speaking, debating, logical reasoning skills, critical thinking, teamwork and leadership attributes. As the Principal, it is my pleasure to extend a warm invitation to students in order to stimulate their participation in this conference that will engage the bright young minds in productive dialogue and facilitate development of strong bonds of friendship. The conference will draw attention to fundamental issues of global importance through varied committees where by finding concrete solutions to global problems will be the primary agenda.

The youth is the reservoir of nation's potential. They must develop qualities of personal integrity, self discipline and broad mindedness to ensure optimum productive outcome of their innate abilities. The youthful period is a period of passion, emotion, activities and vigor. We are organizing this conference in the hope that we are able to provide a platform for the delegates to deliberate, debate and voice their opinions to help inculcate humane values that prioritize prosperity for the larger international community over narrow regional or national interest. It would groom the young ignited minds to emerge as responsible global leaders and would prove to be an experiential learning tool.

I hope the students of various institutions earnestly participate in our MUN and make it a success!
